Thunderbird High School

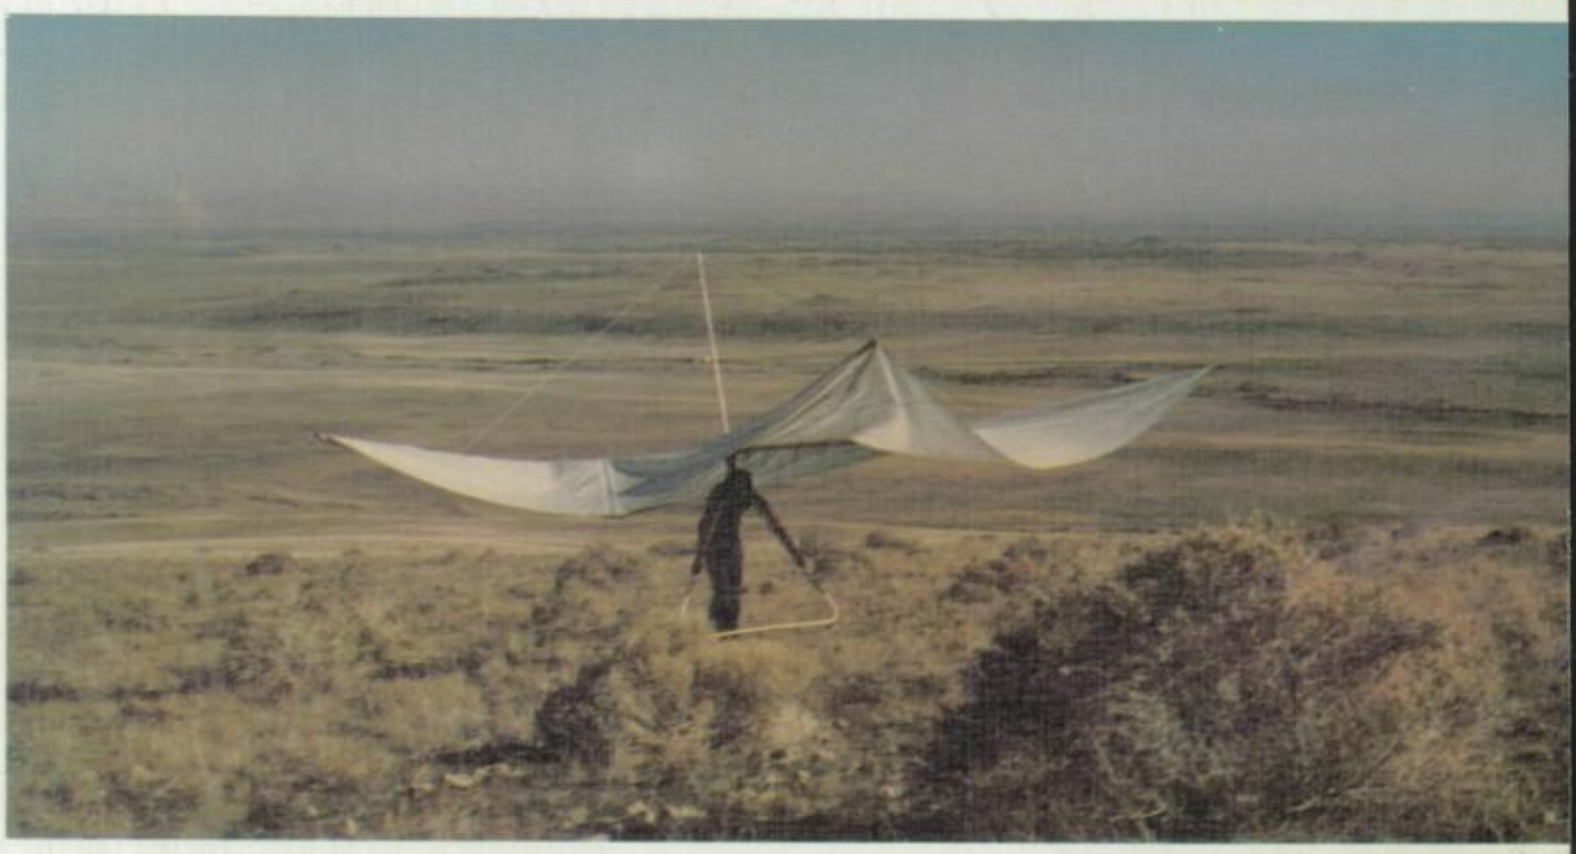
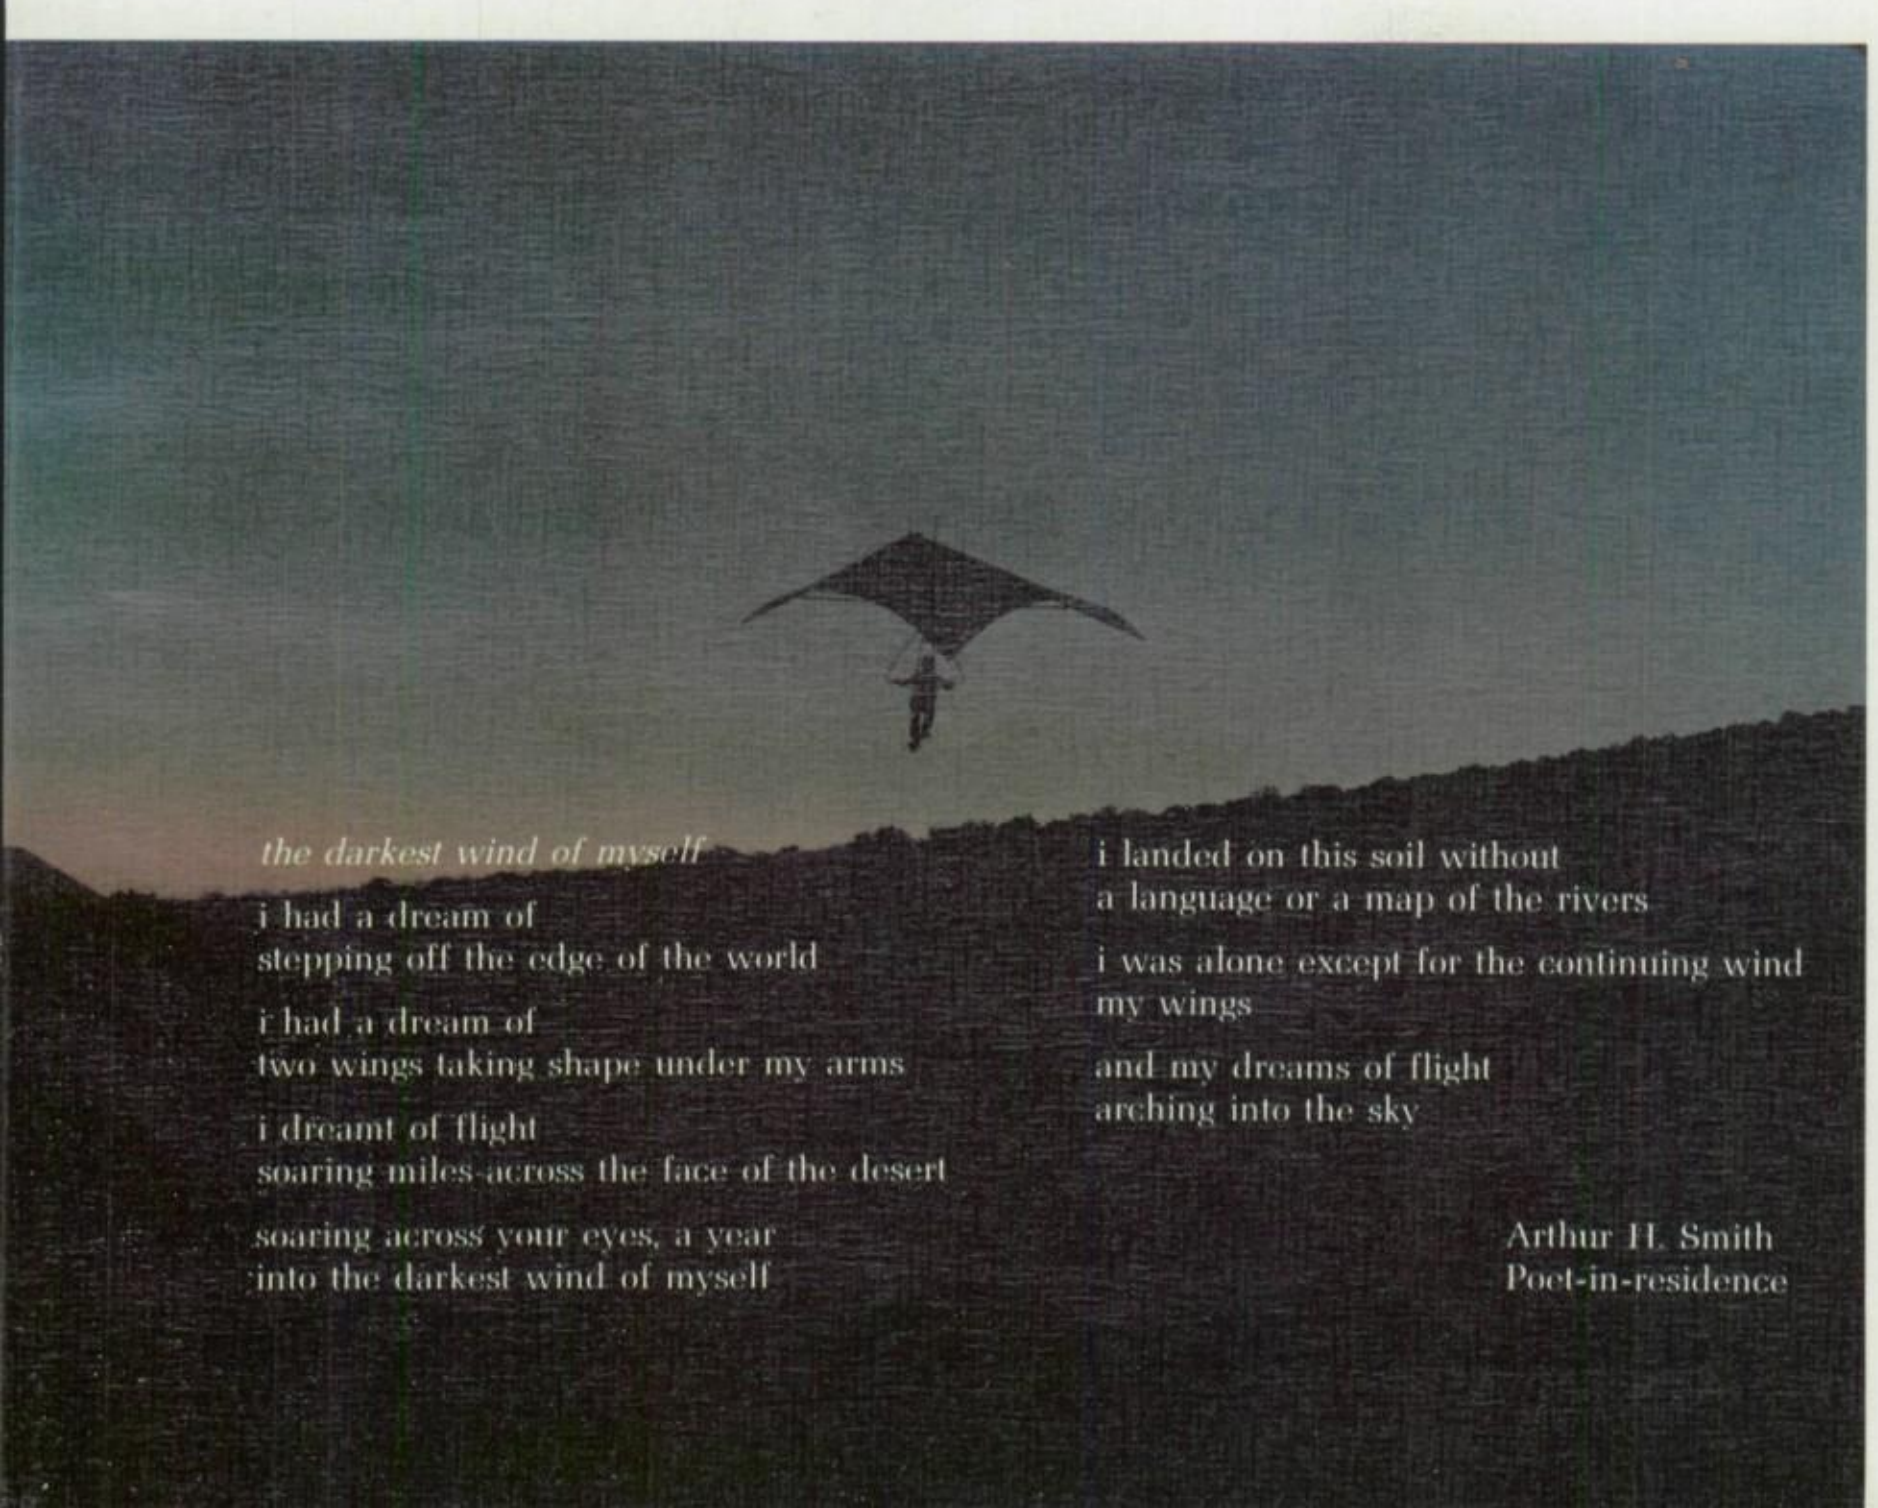
Over 45,000 pilots flying in Grasshoppers, Phantoms or Sky Gulls soar over the mountains, deserts and plains of America.

Hang gliding is a thrilling experience that is becoming a recognized sport throughout our land. Approximately one new pilot ventures the sky every day.

Hang gliding is not as dangerous as some reports have made it sound. The USHGA is an association whose job is making hang gliding a safe as well as an exciting sport. So far hang gliding is at the bottom of the sports' accident list.



SOARING



the darkest wind of myself

i had a dream of stepping off the edge of the world

i had a dream of two wings taking shape under my arms

i dreamt of flight
soaring miles across the face of the desert

soaring across your eyes, a year into the darkest wind of myself

i landed on this soil without a language or a map of the rivers

i was alone except for the continuing wind my wings

and my dreams of flight
arching into the sky

Arthur H. Smith
Poet-in-residence

Step lightly,
for I am weak.
Speak softly,
what you say runs deep inside of me.
Touch gently,
I need your touch to make me strong.

Mitzi Schardt

The meaning of me is deep
Like the rushing waters of an abysmal black river
Lost in time and place
I am that questionable portion of the human being Always present
Forever separate
Bits and pieces of me pour out through the pens and brushes of great artists
Christians mourn and plead for me
Demons lust after me
I am conceived out of the essence of life but Am the sole survivor of death
I am the embodiment
I am eternal
I am soul

Melissa Boling

The breeze blows gently through my hair
Stroking my shoulders
I walk along the beach
Talking to the ocean with its unceasing dialogue
Teasing the waves that reach at my feet

The sweet salty breath of the ocean fills my nostrils
Lightening my head
The ocean voice coaxes my imagination

I dance in the sand
A spirit unleashed Rising with the tides to fly with the seagulls
I come like the fog
Settling on the beach
And peacefully nap to the tune of sweet lullabies
Sung by the ocean

Melissa Boling

Soaring

Getting away
Experiencing total command
Soaring, a free spirit in the winds
Total joy at lifting ten feet off the ground

What has caused this rush of excitement?
Cheering for my team at state
A job, at last, a job
The little car, all mine on a birthday morning
The rose he sent me secretly
The love returned in his eyes

Or is it just the beauty of breathing, sensing, exploring this shimmering moment of life.

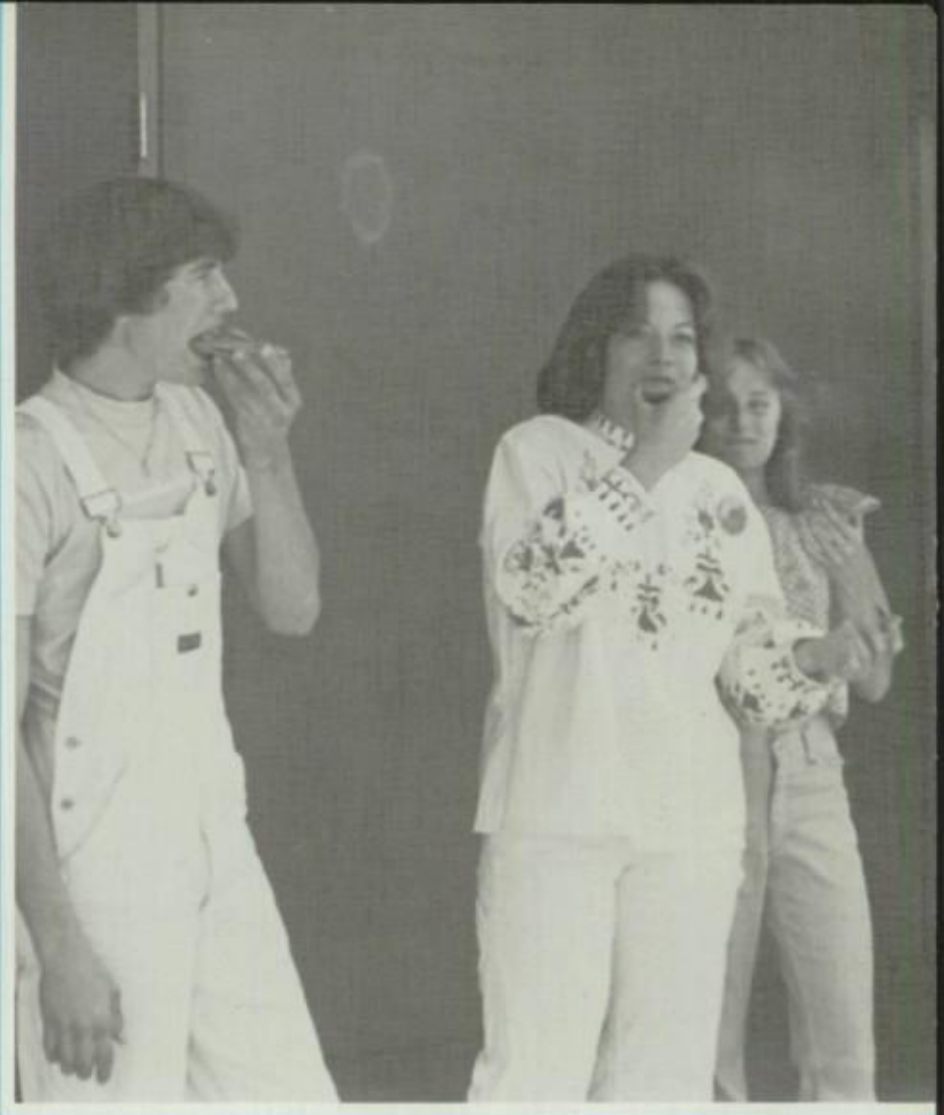
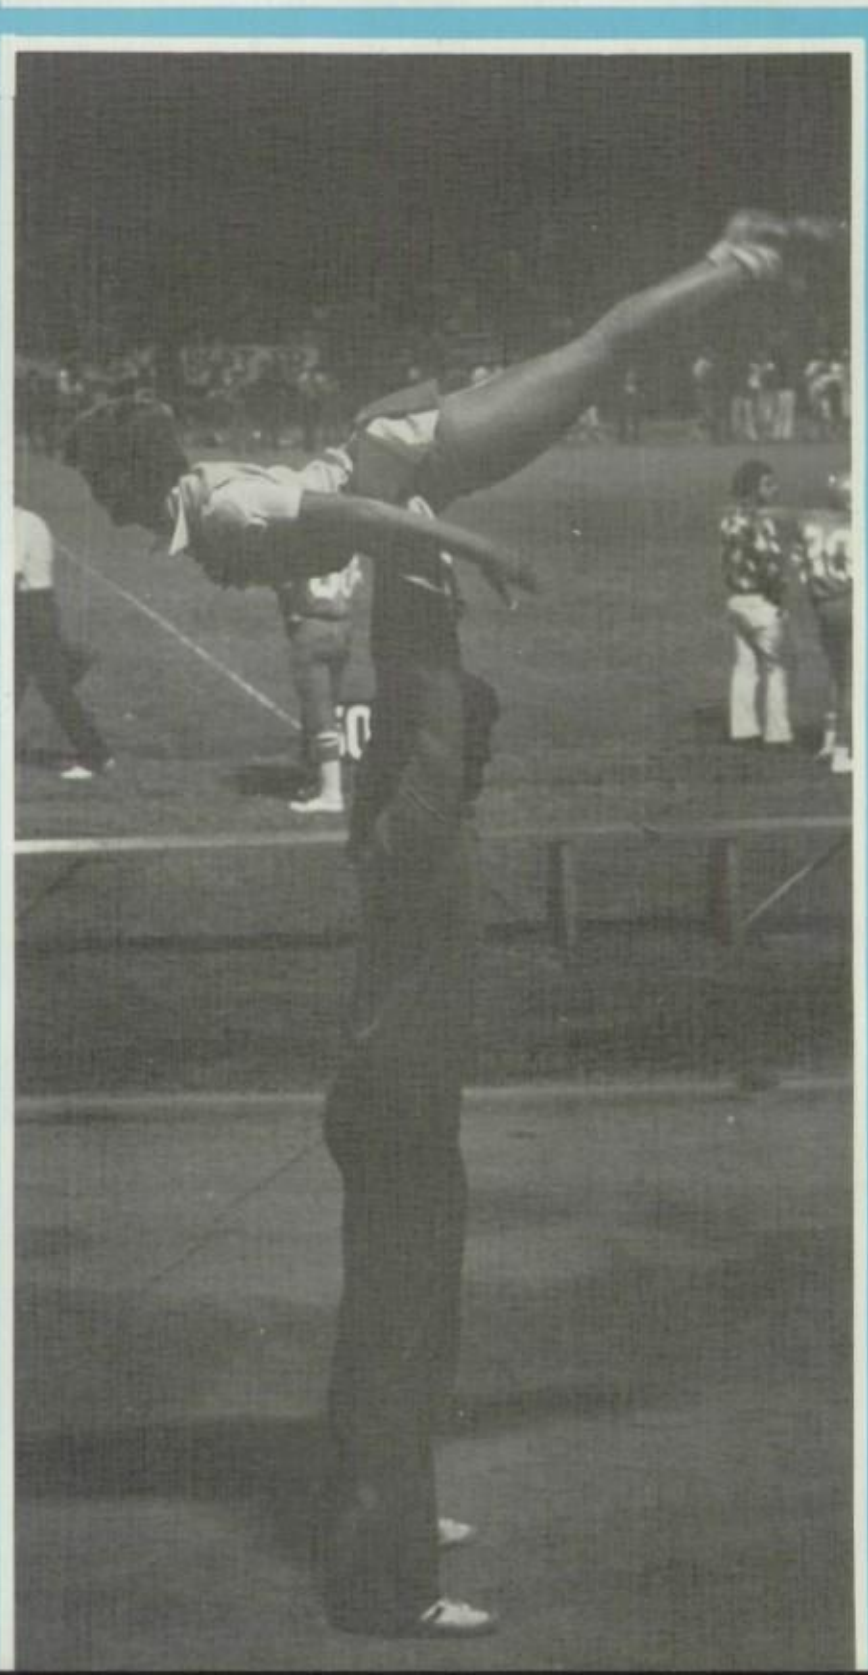
SOARING

School provides a chance for our minds to soar. When we enter high school we begin the four steps of Growing, Searching, Striving and Reaching. Through our contacts with fellow students, we understand the importance of Achieving, Learning, Participating, Competing and Sharing.





SHARING

5 The excitement of winning a football game and yelling to the point of going hoarse...Dressing up in crazy costumes and participating in lunch time activities...

Sitting and rapping with friends, relaxing and going over the events of the day at lunch, and really getting to know each other...

These moments and others add to the school year and help to make it fit together. Moments of sharing like these help build friendships and memories that will soar in the minds of students forever.

Christmas assembly centers on fun

The fourth annual Christmas Assembly was presented on Dec. 21, 1977. The chorus, band, pom line, cheer, drama students and Arrows all did routines to entertain faculty and students. Student Council members put on a skit about Muscular Dystrophy. Gail Holstin reads a poem which brought tears to many.

Drizzling rain sent Greek day indoors for the first time in its four year history. Dancing, kissing and Olympic games were a part of the traditional celebration January 12.

The amphitheater was the setting of Mount Olympus until the heavens downpoured. The props were then moved to the English rooms where music and dance continued. Games and Dance were directed by the gods and performed by the audience.

The gods were John Ford, Cupid; Eddie Cordova, Mercury; Kim Honer, Aphrodite; Bob Peterson, Ares; Cliff Sirks, Poseidon; Karen Elson, Medusa; Shawn Arney, Dionysus; Cindy Dickson, Demeter; Jackie Mack, Athena; Courtney Brown, Hercules; Zac Scott, Apollo; Christen Kinnen, Hera; Tom Cowley, Hephaestus; and Bill Tracey, Zeus.

The four year tradition was carried on and sponsored by Mrs. Jan Korte, Mrs. Julia Willis, Mr. Robert Thoman and Mrs. Jan Rowe.

A new tradition was introduced to Thunderbird this year — Basketball Homecoming.

The new Homecoming was held to attract more people to the basketball games and make basketball as big an event as football.

Week long activities included a sports day, extraordinary out of the ordinary day and orange and blue day. A King and Queen were also chosen to reign.

War Party members thought it was a successful idea because there was a lot of participation.

Mardi Gras was celebrated by all of the foreign language classes on Feb. 7-9. The students dressed up in costumes, broke pinatas and played soccor in honor of the occasion. Mardi Gras is celebrated in many countries around the workd, especially in South America and European countries during the week prior to Lent.

The festivities were enjoyed by both teachers and students. Next year the foreign Language Department hopes to make the celebration an annual event open to the whole campus.

Veronica reigns as Sweetheart Queen at Key Club Dance

Valentines Day was celebrated in the traditional way with sweethearts receiving flowers and candy from their sweeties. But along with those usual activities something a little different happened, Cupid visited our campus and granted lucky lovers Hershey kisses.

At the end of the day's excitement, Feb. 10 the traditional Sweetheart Dance was held in the gym. The attire was semi-formal, with couples dancing to the disco music of Rick Nunley.

It was a festive occasion that culminated with the crowning of Veronica Zorzano, THS foreign exchange student from Chile. Her attenants were Marie Wald and Julie Parke.

Classes hold separate assemblies

A new dimension was added to the assembly schedule. Along with the general school assemblies, separate class assemblies were held. Each class organized the agenda for its own assembly. Each assembly promoted class spirit, school pride, and seemed to be received with enthusiasm by class members.

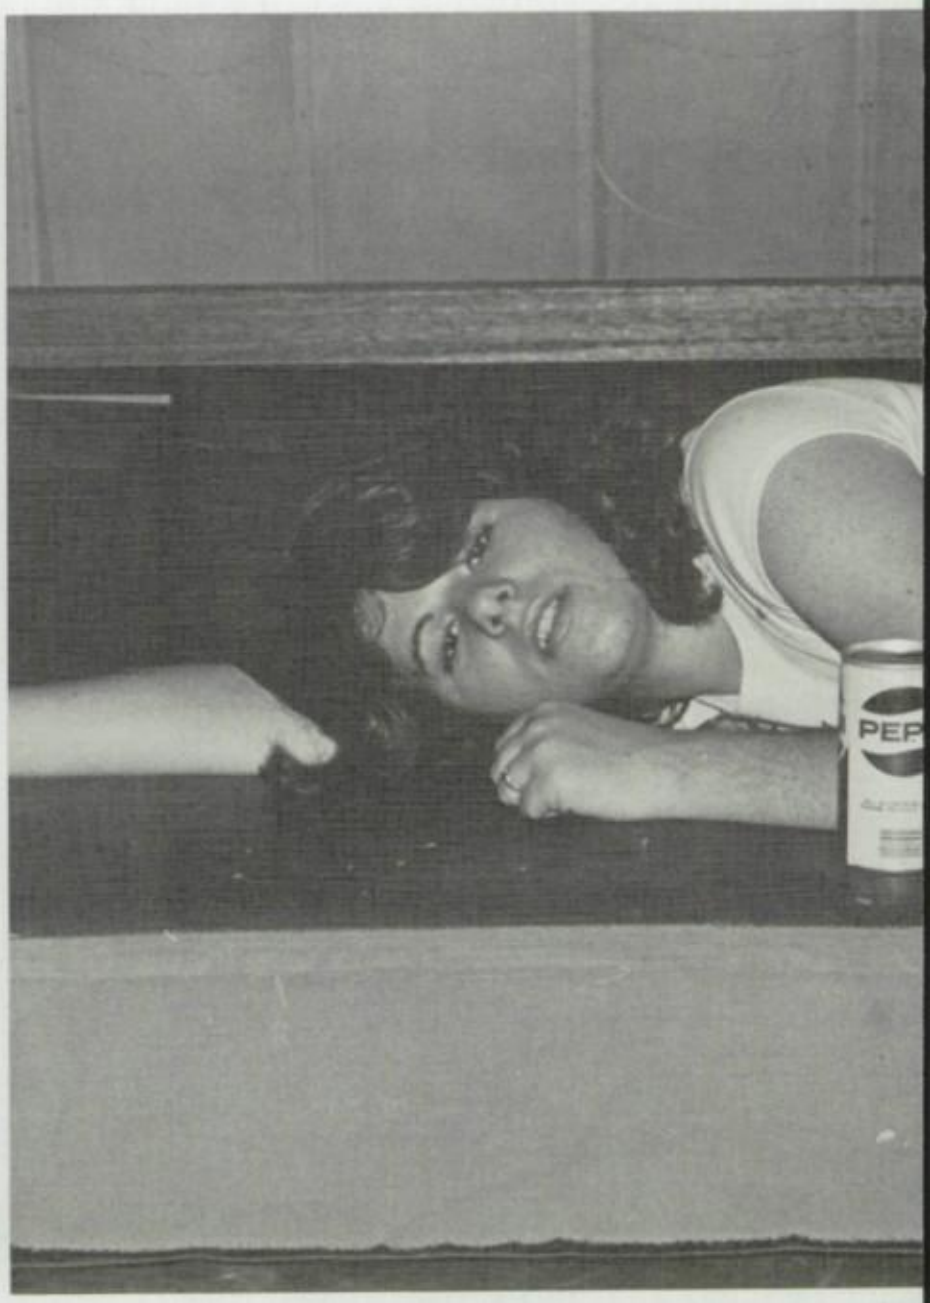
On February 17, total school assembly was held to promote school spirit. This assembly followed the individual class assemblies.

The final spirit assembly featured competition between the four classes. This included a relay between the class presidents, a class-yell contest, and a pyramid building contest. The Pom line also performed a modern dance.

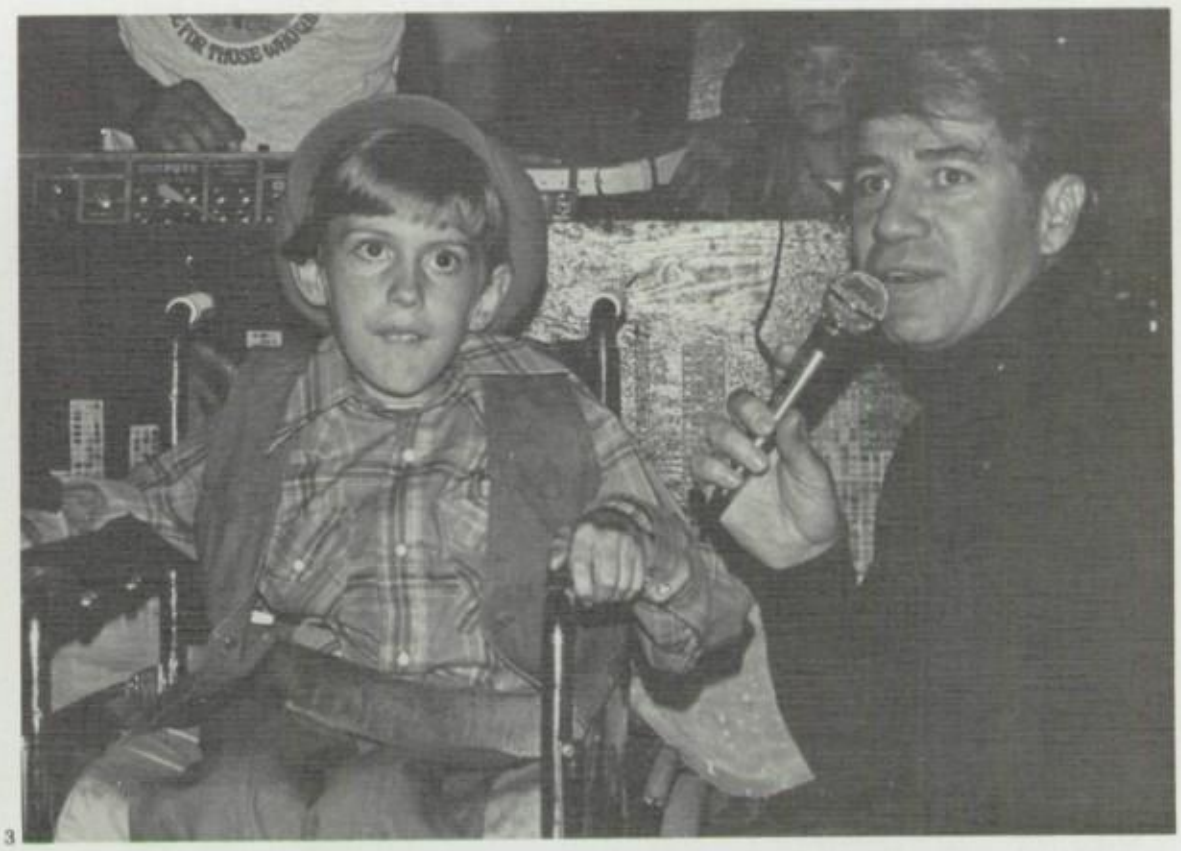
Marathon Dance raises $4059 total



The Marathon Dance for Muscular Dystrophy, held on Feb. 24, earned $4,059. This was an increase over last year's total. The dance lasted thirteen hours, from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Rick Nunley was D.J. for the dance and Mr. Ken Coy of KPHO T.V. stopped by with Timmy Dewl, the 1976-77 Muscular Dystrophy poster child. Orange juice and 350 hamburgers were donated by McDonald's. Coca-Cola was also donated and T-shirts sponsored by Schick were given to dancers.

The money earned will help find a cure for Muscular Dystrophy. Admission to the dance for those not sponsored was $1 with I. D. and $1.25 without.



1 Tia Dunn dances up a storm in the marathon. 2 Tia Dunn collapses during a break period. 3 Mr. Ken Koy, KPHO newscaster, and Timmy Dewl, 1976-1977 poster child, make a guest appearance. 4 Ken Koy gives Rick Nunley a hand at Djaying the dance. 5 Students dance for those who can't. 6 Steve Staggs makes his own music.

Talent Show highlights singing, dancing routines

Starla Hudson and Cindy Schultz ran away with the grand prize trophy for their tap dancing routine this year at the fourth annual Talent Show held on March 11 sponsored by the Band.

Taking first place in the vocal category was soloist Mike Sokol singing "When You're Lying Awake" followed by second place winner, soloist Cheryl Graham singing "If My People Will Pray."

In the dance category was Kathy Vineyard taking first place for her belly dance. Maureen Riorden and Sue Robertson took second place for their gymnastic dance to BIYO.

In the miscellaneous category Greg Clark took first place for his magic act while Randi Hedin took second place for her dramatic reading called "The Man With the Broken Fingers."

"We had more acts audition this year than we've ever had before. We had a hard time selecting 21 acts to perform in the Talent Show, so I can imagine how tough it must have been for the judges to choose the winners," commented Mr. Jerry Jensen, band director. He continued, "Despite the fact that it was raining the night of the Talent Show we still had an excellent turnout."

The judges for the Talent Show were Mr. George R. Boucher, a parent of THS graduates; Ms. Mary Ann Charron, music teacher at Most Holy Trinity School; Ms. Cathy Crowl, instructor at Spisak Dance Academy; Ms. Phyllis Daughetery, Band Director at Peoria public schools; Mr. Dale Plumb, Band Diector at Grandview Elementary School; and Ms. Susan Washburn, kindergarten music teacher.

"I was very surprised at the number of people who came to see the show," commented Mr. Bruce Ammann, assistant band director. He continued, "I've never been involved in anything quite like this before but it was definitely an experience to remember."

This year was filled with many money making projects for the Senior Class. Some of the money was earmarked for a parting gift to the school.

During Homecoming there was a flower sale. In December there was the Christmas dance and senior class tee-shirt sale.

There was also a battle between the sexes and a senior class picnic planned for the spring.

As juniors, students have grown accustomed to the atmosphere of THS and are now striving for greater goals. The Junior-Senior Prom was the major class activity of the year, which took a great deal of time in planning. Other activities included serving concessions at home football and basketball games, and other assorted sales. Additional projects included a special Junior class assembly, a spring dance, and the appointment of next year's class officers.

As sophomore students finish their second year in high school they search for the accomplishments they wish to achieve.

This year they sponsored a dance in February and a candy sale to begin to build a treasury that will eventually be used for their prom. For Homecoming they designed and built a float entitled "Chief Force is Out of this World".

GROWING

Freshman students confront obstacles, face conflicts and learn to cope. During the ninth grade year they blossom and grow. Soon they are able to soar through their teen years as upperclassmen do.

The Freshman Class sponsored several activities requiring responsibility such as assisting with the Muscular Dystrophy campaign, a book drive and a car wash.

Achieving

To soar to great heights, we must first go through the training and the strife to be able to reach those goals. We have to fight and fight hard to be the best and stay the best.

It's not easy but the inspiration we get and the thrills we receive from these achievements bring great joy to us and those supporting us. Even when we try and fail we always seem to give the best because . . . that's what it's all about.

To reach our personal goals and to be able to keep those memories forever is one of the greatest achievements of all.

Julie, Vinnie chosen for activities

Julie Parke and Vinnie Waldron were chosen as 1977-1978 outstanding boy and girl for their extra-curricular activities.

Every teacher had a chance to nominate seniors they thought were outstanding in clubs or sports. Then the Senior Class chose the winners.

Julie Parke has participated in Ski Club all during her high school years. She also participated in TRA, War Party and Spanish Club.

Julie has been one of the most outstanding swimmer on the THS Girl's Swim team during all four years at Thunderbird.

Vinnie Waldron has played football for four years, three years on varsity. Vinnie also played basketball for four years, two years on varsity. Other sports played were track duringhis freshman year and baseball during his sophomore and junior year.

Senior Class chooses Julie, Wayne for academics

The outstanding senior boy and girl academically for the Class of '78 are Wayne Allen and Julie Parke.

The top ranked 20 boys and 20 girls in the class, were placed on a ballot for the seniors to select.

Wayne has participated in Spanish Club for four years and at the same time made honor roll al through school. He has been part of National Honor Society for his junior and senior year.

Wayne has also participated in sports such as baseball and football.

Julie has participated in TRA and War Party in her freshman through junior years. She has been a member of Ski Club all four years and Spanish Club for two.

Julie was also chosen to become a member of the National Honor Society during her junior and senior years and also received honor roll placement during all four years.

Learning

As our school grows in size and recognition it takes on bigger goals to establish better relations between faculty and students.

Teachers became even more involved with the students this year, sponsoring field trips, tournaments and learning experiences. Their time and care will enlighten the soaring minds of students at Thunderbird.

The School Board is selected by a general election held every two years. They have four year terms. The school board is responsible for controlling the school budget, hiring of the staff and the approval of all school programs including student trips. This year they approved a trip for the band to go to Hawaii.

Dr. Ardeth Cropper, who has been principal at Thunderbird for the past four years, was selected this year to participate in a special conference for women in school administration. Dr. Cropper was chosen from over 600 women nationwide and is considered one of the top 75 female administrators. Dr. Cropper has her doctorate in education and is still the only woman principal in the Glendale Union High School District.

This year Dr. Cropper instituted an advisory committee which consisted of two people from rotating homerooms. They met every Tuesday during homeroom and discussed problems on campus. Dr. Cropper started this committee so she could become more in touch with the students and their opinions.

An advanced course in accounting was added to the Business Department this year and there were nineteen students enrolled. Mr. Ogborne hopes that the enrollment will increase next year. The perequisite for advanced Accounting is Accounting 1-2, offered to sophomores, juniors and seniors. Mr. Ogborne teaches the class and hopes that the students will be able to take a test at the end of the course and receive college credit for their efforts.

Department chairperson, Ms. Sheri Butout, took a few months maternity leave and in January had a baby boy.

Mr. Ed Czerwinski joined the department to teach a few sections of typing. Along with typing, Mr. Czerwinski also taught math classes.

1 Jennifer Mack works on an accounting assignment. 2 Diane Bowers proofreads her typing in class.

Language classes enjoy Mardi Gras

Mardi Gras was celebrated for the first time this year by the French, Latin, Spanish and German classes on Feb. 7-9. Students dressed up in costumes from different countries in honor of the occasion. Soccer games, pinatas, and foreign foods were all included in the festivities. The Foreign Language Department is hoping to make this first time celebration a tradition.

1 Roseanne Falsachetti, Chris Frees and Mr. Ralph Gaxiola show off their costumes during Mardi Gras week sponsored by the Foreign Language Department. 2 Ms. Kathy Brackney helps students during a Latin class.

Classes concentrate on career skills

The Industrial Arts department offers elective classes in woods, autos, metals, drafting and I.C.E. (Industrial Cooperative Education). This year Mr. Lee Harkleroad took on the duties of I.C.E. coordinator and Mr. Dean Price, former coordinator, took on his classes in autos and metals. Students enrolled in these electives develop career related skills in the industrial fields and often create projects of lasting beauty in woods and metals.

Students learn from labs, lectures

This year the Science Department has expanded by adding three new staff members and one new course. Ms. Bonnie Jones, who previously taught at South Mountain High, teaches Freshman Earth Science. Ms. Ellen Obye instructs biology classes and Ms. Barbara Rosenberg teaches both biology and chemistry students.

A different version of biology has been added to the science curriculum for students with learning disabilities.

Mock trial, simulation new for Social Studies

The Social Studies department puts students in touch with past and current events. Senior government students gained knowledge of the workings of politics by participating in simulations of political conventions and reproducing a congressional senate. U.S. History classes participated in a mock historical battle, while learning the reasoning behind the Civil War.

More equipment will be added to the media center next year. The equipment will be operated by student audio-visual aides. The video tapes may also be used by researchers if needed.

Special Services assist students

Mr. Phil Elston has replaced last year's P.A.Y.S. officer, Mr. Don Donati. Mr. Elston gave presentations on family pro disputes, child beating, and hitchhiking problems. Officer Elston tries to give students a good insight into police procedure.

The THS Marching, Symphonic and Concert bands were more successful than ever this year. The marching band started the year out right by presenting a superior performance in competition at the ASU Band Day on Oct. 22, 1977, which earned straight ones in every category. They then competed in the U of A Band Day on Nov. 12, 1977, and earned the Nunamaker Award, an award given only to the best bands in the State of Arizona. Only two other bands received the Nunamaker Award. The addition of a 14 piece flag corps seemed to make the marching band even more effective and colorful.

The big event for the band this year, though, was receiving an invitation to participate in the Hawaiian Festival of Bands in Hawaii, on April 22, 1978. The band spent the whole school year raising the $56,000 needed through activities such as car washes, raffles, bake sales, working at Phoenix International Raceway, and the Black Canyon Shooting Range, selling Christmas greens, candy canes, pennants, etc.

"An honest respect and appreciation for the environment is the main goal of the Wilderners Backpack Club. This year the club planned day hikes and overnight trips every month to such places as the Superstitions, Douglas Fir Trail, Spruce Mountain, Pine Mountain, and Mount Humphrey. The highlight of the year was a five-day hike in the Havasupai Canyon. The club also participated in the Superwalk in the spring. To learn how to appreciate camping, topics such as hiking safety, tents, wildlife, and buying a backpack are covered at the meetings. Due to the membership growth this year, there is an increasing number of Happy Hikers on campus."

The JV Basketball team ended up a good year with a recod of 13-7. Sam Van Cleave was the leading scorer and rebounder for the squad. Bill Honer led in minutes played and was named inspirational leader. Troy Jones was the leader in assists and steals. At the JV Banquet, Van Cleave was named MVP due to the fact that he set or broke nine JV records. Bill Honer won the coaches award, and Dennis Dove was named most improved. One of the highlights of the sparkling season was the beating of an undefeated St. Mary's squad 58-57. The club set a school rebounding record with 723 boards. Coach Greg Bruce said, "We weren't the most talented team around, but the players worked extremely hard during the season and never quit regardless of the game situation."

Led by Coach Brian Jordan, the Frosh A basketball team fashioned a record of 17-1, the best record ever for a frosh team. Some of the outstanding players on the squad were Shane Hallford, Rick Huber, Bob Weston, and Robbie England. At the freshman banquet, Craig Clark received the most improved award and Weston won the award as most consistent player. The highlight of the season, according to Coach Jordan was beating St. Mary's twice. Coach Jordan said, "I personally was very proud to be a part of what I feel is an excellent basketball program at Thunderbird High School.

Soaring

As a bird in flight, that searches on the wind for new horizons to fill, Thunderbird students enlightened their horizons by beginning new programs, and getting involved in the school and community.

Thunderbird was recognized as number one when the Band received the Nunamaker Award at the University of Arizona Marching Band Festival. Cheer, Speech and Model UN made a name for themselves across the state in tournaments and competitions.

ROTC students expressed their interest in the Navy and the ROTC began on our campus this year under the direction of Commander Thomas Smith, U.S.N.

The Girls' Swimming team captured the division title and the THS Wrestlers had an undefeated season and finished second in division. Clowns and poetry classes added fun and culture to the THS campus. A new tradition was started by War Party and Student Council, a Basketball Homecoming.

This year was also a time for many changes, such as the name of the newspaper to the Chief's Chant and the overall look of the THS campus.

Dr. Cropper established an Advisory Committee to bring students and faculty together on problems facing the school.

Dr. Ardeth Cropper announced her resignation during March as principal of THS. She planned a move to the Peoria District as assistant Superintendent.

The wings of Thunderbird were spread with the eagerness to change and move on to brighter horizons by trying new projects. Though the changes were many, there was proof that the THS students and Faculty proved that soaring is only achieved through learning.

Dave,
Don't be stuck up anymore it's not nice. You've been pretty good the last couple weeks Just kidding. Well anyway it's been really nice knowing you for as long as I have. Cuz I'll see you and I will maybe maybe Tuesday at work up and say hi to me!
Your nice weather won't be summer. Don't do anything you wouldn't do. Have fun this summer

Dave, SINCE MY PICTURE ISNT IN THE YEARBOOK, HERE IT IS →

Sam signing your yearbook and you dont even know ~~it~~ because you're gone. Ive known you since you were 4'2 that was 8 years ago, now you 4'3 my how you have grown! Ha Ha He He Ho Ho.... Honestly little guy you're a joke Ha Ha He He Ho Ho... Do you ever have the urge -to play handball against the curb? Ha Ha He He Ho Ho... Someday Im going -to have to prove to you that my TORINO CAN KICK BUTT ON ~~I~~ YOUR JEEP. These past lines I have been ~~writ~~ writing were sponsered by Cal Worthington he'll give you a square deal! Ha He He He Ho Ho.... ~~He~~ Isnt this a great little piece of ~~poet~~ poetry Ive put in your yearbook. The reason I am writing a full page is because I am full of ~~sh~~ sh. Well Im running out of room and Im drunk so stick it in your left finger. Your cool David Kirks brother ↑ Peter Mark

Dave,

If ever I could have lost my sanity, it would have been in Period 3; but your wit, charm, graciousness, and keen intelligence kept me on an even keel.

Keep wheelin'

Ms. Schocken

Dave I don't know you very well but I like your jokes during com. + car. Keep that good looking deep.

See ya sometime at the lake someday

Greg Kuntz 79'

Dave
Sorry I was cool having you in my Design Fundamentals class. Both of us got pretty easy A's. Thanks for helping me paint the back room.
Take care this summer. Why don't you come by some time and we'll go + come in.
